FIVE GAMES AT BT MURRAYFIELD NEXT SEASON

With the Rugby World Cup being played in France from late September to the end of October, Scotland's usual Autumn Nations Series games will not take place this year.

Instead, fans have the chance to come to BT Murrayfield during the summer and watch three Tests as part of the Scotland Rugby World Cup squad's tournament preparations before flying out to Nice in the south of France ahead of their opening pool game.

v ITALY

Saturday 29 July

The fast-improving Italy team recorded eye-catching wins last year against Wales at the Principality Stadium on the last weekend of the Guinness Six Nations, and at home against Australia in the Autumn Nations Series. The team is bursting with flair - their exhilarating young full-back Ange Capuozzo won World Rugby's Breakthrough Player of the Year award last year - and sets up fans with the perfect start to the Summer Test series.

v FRANCE

Saturday 5 August

Rugby World Cup 2023 hosts France went through the whole of last year unbeaten, finishing with a win against the current World Champions, South Africa. This is the first of two games against les Bleus this August - they play again the following weekend in France (venue tbc) - and provides the perfect opportunity to see this popular fixture played in glorious summer weather.

v GEORGIA

Saturday 26 August

Last summer Georgia beat Italy and ran an Argentine XV close, then narrowly lost to Samoa in the Autumn Nations Series before travelling to Cardiff and beating Wales for the first time. The Scots played Georgia home and away in the Summer of 2019 ahead of the last Rugby World Cup, the game at BT Murrayfield in front a crowd of over 53,000, a record for the fixture and the second-highest ever for a Summer Test. Come and give the Scotland players a rousing send-off in their last game before flying out to the Rugby World Cup!

Guinness Six Nations 2024

v FRANCE

Sat 10 February, 2.15pm

The visit of France is always one of the most eagerly anticipated and colourful games on the Scottish rugby calendar. Scotland lost at BT Murrayfield in 2022 to a France team bound for Grand Slam glory but, having won in Paris the year before (for the first time since 1999) and again running the hosts close in Paris earlier this year, this promises to be another classic encounter.

v ENGLAND

Sat 24 February, 4.45pm

The oldest fixture in international rugby was always one of the most popular events in Scottish history but with Scotland aiming for four wins in a row, it will be more popular than ever! Scotland won the last Calcutta Cup encounter at BT Murrayfield - completing their first back-to-back win against England since the Grand Slam season of 1984 - and of course followed it up with another win at Twickenham in the opening round of this year's championship.
